GLENDALÉ, AZ – Residents and business owners are invited to attend Ocotillo District Councilmember David Goulet's annual Neighborhood Services Fair from 6 - 8 p.m. Wednesday, April 23 at the Glendale Woman's Club, 7032 N. 56th Ave.

Representatives from city departments will be distributing information and answering questions on the many programs and services available to Glendale residents and businesses. Additionally, city partners and community organizations will be on hand to share information.

"This event will provide attendees the opportunity to learn about the many city and community services and resources that are available to them all in one informal setting," said Goulet, who has hosted the annual event for the past three years.

Attendees will learn about the city's neighborhood services, fire and police programs, recycling and sanitation services, water conservation rebate programs, downtown and citywide activities, historic preservation and property maintenance programs and much more.
